Mayor Wanda R.D. Williams
54th Annual Conference of the Pennsylvania State Mayors' Association
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Friends and Fellow Mayors,

It is my distinct honor and sincere pleasure to welcome you to the 54th Annual Conference of the Pennsylvania State Mayors' Association, hosted this year in our beautiful Capital City—Harrisburg.

As a lifelong resident of Harrisburg and now as Mayor, I know firsthand the challenges and triumphs that come with serving a community you deeply love. This annual gathering is more than a conference—it is a much-needed opportunity to learn, to recharge, and to reaffirm our shared commitment to local leadership. Each one of you represents the heartbeat of your community, and I applaud the work you do every day to protect, uplift, and advocate for the people you serve.

Harrisburg is a city of resilience, rich history, and vibrant culture. I encourage you to explore our riverfront, visit our thriving small businesses, and enjoy our well-known arts and culinary scenes while you are here. Whether it is your first visit or your fiftieth, we are proud to call you our guest.

Thank you to the Pennsylvania State Mayor's Association for choosing to hold this prestigious event in our great city. I hope your time in Harrisburg is as productive as it is inspiring.

With great respect and warmest regards,

Sincerely,

Wanda R.D. Williams

Greetings Fellow Mayors,

Welcome to the 54th Annual Conference of the Pennsylvania State Mayors' Association!

No matter what your political persuasion, there should be little disagreement among mayors that the change of administration in Washington D.C. is having an impact on mayors and their municipalities throughout Pennsylvania. For this reason, the primary focus of this year's conference is to highlight some of these changes and provide guidance as to how to address them. Among the topics that will be covered will be the economy, immigration, the loss of federal funding and making government more efficient through the use of artificial intelligence.

As changes occur within our municipalities, mayors will need to communicate with the public and the media, so there is a speaker to guide us on the best practices for doing so. Also, the new Executive Director of the Governor's Center for Local Government Services will present on the services that the Center can provide us.

As always, the basic educational program will be augmented by legislative and legal updates as well as opportunities to learn from other mayors at the Mayors' Sharing Session, during the four communal meals and in the hospitality room. The educational tours will take place at the Capitol and the Civil War Museum. Finally, at the Friday night dinner, the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Senator John Heinz History Center will share with us a program designed to encourage the younger citizens of our municipalities to become more involved in civic affairs.

Thank you for your participation in this year's Conference and your support of the PSMA. We look forward to serving you over the next year.

Sincerely,

Jim Nowalk

History

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE MAYORS' ASSOCIATION 54 Years of Dedicated Service to Pennsylvania's Mayors

History

The Pennsylvania State Mayors' Association (PSMA) was founded by 5 Mayors and their supporters, who conceived of an association that would have no formal affiliation with any other municipal organization and would represent, educate, and advocate for all Mayors. It was to be an organization of Mayors, by Mayors, and for Mayors. On January 22, 1971, the PSMA was incorporated as a nonprofit corporation. The PSMA has always operated pursuant to written Bylaws that have been revised a number of times over the years to meet the evolving needs of the Association. Because membership in the PSMA is open to all Mayors regardless of whether they are from a borough, city, incorporated town, or home rule township, the PSMA has grown to be the largest organization of Mayors in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Purposes

The purposes of the PSMA are:

- To secure closer official and personal relationships among all Mayors of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;
- To secure unity of action in matters pertaining to Mayors and their duties;
- To exchange information among Mayors so that they can give better service to the municipalities that they represent;
- To work for closer cooperation with all other associations interested in local government, whether they be county, state or federal;
- To preserve, promote and protect the rights of the office of Mayor in all facets of municipal government; and
- To actively engage in promoting progressive legislation to support programs that will be beneficial to all members of the Association.

Governance

The PSMA is governed by a 22-member Executive Board composed of Mayors from every region of Pennsylvania. The composition of the Executive Board is determined initially by the PSMA members and then by the officers whom the members elect. In July of even-numbered years, the members elect officers at the annual conference.

History

The officers consist of a President, 6 Regional Vice Presidents, Treasurer, Secretary and Past President. These 10 officers then appoint, at an organizational meeting, the remaining members of the Executive Board from a slate of appointees proposed by the President.

Standing Committees

The PSMA has seven standing committees with specific charges: Audit, Bylaws, Conference, Mayor of the Year, Membership, Nominating, and Resolutions. The Audit Committee examines the income and expense statements, other financial and legal documents and the records of the Association and then issues a report to the members attending the annual conference on the financial status of the Association. The Bylaws Committee reviews annually, and updates as necessary, the articles and sections of the Bylaws of the Association. The Conference Committee assists the President in developing programs and any awards or recognition and in making the physical arrangements for the annual conference. The Membership Committee coordinates with the Regional Vice Presidents to increase membership in the association and to develop means by which attendance at the annual conference is increased, The Mayor of the Year Committee selects one Mayor to be honored as the Association's "Mayor of the Year." In even-numbered years, the Nominating Committee recruits Mayors for the 9 offices of the Association and nominates the recruits to be candidates for election by the members at the annual conference. The Resolutions Committee coordinates the policy-making activities of the Association by reviewing and introducing for discussion, debate, and adoption or rejection various resolutions, which directly or indirectly affect the office and role of Mayors.

Ad Hoc Committees

Subject to the approval of the Executive Board, the President may establish additional ad hoc committees as necessary to carry out the policies and programs of, or to further the purpose of, the Association. For instance, in 2009, the PSMA created the Ad Hoc Committee to Update the Office of Borough Mayor, which was charged with the task of reviewing the Borough Code and proposing changes that would modernize the Office of Mayor. With the passage of Act 43 of 2012, the Act that revises the Borough Code, the work of the Committee was complete. Notably, a number of the Committee's proposals were incorporated into Act 43.

Operations

From its inception, the PSMA has maintained its state headquarters in Bethel Park, Allegheny County, the Pennsylvania County which has the largest number of Mayors.

History

Staffed with an office manager and guided by a former Mayor whose title is Executive Director, the PSMA headquarters exists to meet the day-to-day needs of Mayors throughout Pennsylvania. It is the site of records and resources which have been accumulating over the 54 years of the PSMA's existence. When a Mayor asks a question of a legal nature, the PSMA calls upon the services of its solicitors, the CGA Law Firm.

Lobbying for Legislative Changes

Because of the size and breadth of its membership as well as the fact that it is not affiliated with any other municipal organizations, the PSMA is in an excellent position to lobby for legislative changes to benefit Mayors and the issues which concern them. It was the PSMA which sponsored the bill that now gives borough Mayors the right to speak at council meetings. For many years, the PSMA caused a bill to be introduced into the General Assembly which would enable a borough Mayor to receive money for performing weddings and increase the amount of reimbursement for attorneys' fees to $4,000.00, whenever a Mayor is forced to retain outside counsel. On May 17, 2012, the language of those previous bills became law when Governor Corbett approved House Bill 1702, now known as Act 43 of 2012, amending the Borough Code. Twice, the PSMA sent representatives to Harrisburg to advocate for other provisions that were incorporated into the Bill.

The PSMA is advocating for city Mayors as well. When changes were proposed to the Third Class City Code in the 2015-2016 session of the General Assembly, the PSMA made certain that city Mayors were aware of those changes and offered to host a conference call among city Mayors to discuss the proposed changes. Additionally, many city Mayors favor expanding the opportunity that only some cities enjoy of levying a tax on hotel occupants in their municipalities. The PSMA has supported this initiative by retaining the services of law students from Duquesne University School of Law. Their report to the PSMA's Executive Board on the legality and efficacy of such fees was a valuable resource in lobbying for all municipalities to have this revenue source.

In 2013, the PSMA took a major step in support of legislation that would end Pennsylvania's ignominious distinction of being the only state in the United States of America that does not allow its municipal police to use radar to enforce the motor vehicle speed limits set by the legislature. Again with the help of Duquesne University, School of Law, and then Dean Kenneth Gormley (a former Mayor), the PSMA obtained the services of a law student to help make a case with the General Assembly for bringing Pennsylvania in line with all of the other states on this important subject. The law student undertook extensive research on the laws and practices of other states with regard to the use of radar by municipal police.

History

Relationships with Other Organizations

Throughout Pennsylvania, there are various organizations providing services to Mayors. Because of its size, breadth and independence, the PSMA is uniquely positioned to work with and assist all of these organizations. A number of county Mayors' associations have regarded the PSMA as their statewide affiliate. The Allegheny County Mayors' Association, the Chester County Mayors' Association, the Lackawanna County Mayors' Association, the Lancaster County Mayors' Association and the York County Mayors' Association are five such organizations. One PSMA Board member is the former president of the Pennsylvania Municipal League connecting the PSMA with that organization. Another member of the PSMA Executive Board was a member of the Board of Directors of the Association of the Mayors of the Boroughs of Pennsylvania giving the PSMA a link with that mayoral organization, as well. The PSMA is working to create stronger ties with all municipalities through its leadership and participation in the Radar Coalition.

Mayor of the Year

Brandon "Brandy" Schimp, Mayor of the Borough of Kane

The 2024 Mayor of the Year

Brandon “Brandy” Schimp

Mayor, Borough of Kane

The Pennsylvania State Mayors' Association 2025 Mayor of the Year, Mayor Brandy Schimp, is a life-long resident of Kane Borough in McKean County. What she experienced early in her life was an extraordinary sense of community spirit that left an indelible mark upon her. In her own words, “Growing up in Kane, I knew there was something special and I always knew this was where I wanted to be. Where I wanted to raise a family. And where I hoped to be able to give back someday.”

Giving back long before becoming Mayor, Brandy Schimp became a Big Sister for Big Brothers/Big Sisters of McKean County, serving for 10 years. This was just the beginning of a rich life of public service. Recognizing his wife's ability as an exceptional leader, Brandy's husband initiated a successful write-in campaign for her to become the Mayor of Kane Borough in 2017.

As the sole elected executive of Kane Borough, Mayor Schimp quickly realized the potential for promoting the public good through the Office of Mayor. Her efforts in her seven years as mayor have become known as the “Kane Renaissance.” Since Mayor Schimp's first election, over 40 new businesses have opened and remained viable in Kane Borough. The main street in Kane Borough is not only alive, it is a vibrant and busy retail district.

As Tom Kase, Kane Borough Council President, noted in Mayor Schimp's nomination “she inspires a sense of community that welcomes people of all ages”, “she advocates for law enforcement and strives for a community connection” and “she provides advocacy for the Kane community at all levels of government”.

For her many accomplishments and the exemplary manner in which she has held the Office of Mayor, the PSMA calls upon all mayors to recognize and congratulate Mayor Brandy Schimp as our 2024 “Mayor of the Year.”
